

AGILE VALUE HUNT

“Hi! I’m the Agile Value Hunt activity. Follow the instructions below as soon as you sit down. Don’t wait for the rest of your team to arrive. Be quick! See if you can complete the activity before the lecture starts.”

Instructions:

Your team has been asked to help brainstorm ideas for features for a new software application.

Open the envelope to find out what problem the application must solve, and what your team’s role is.

Write each feature idea you come up with on a separate index card, using the marker pens provided.

Stick the index cards onto one of the blank A3 sheets provided, and then stick the whole thing up on the wall, beside your team sign.

We’ll be sharing the cards with the other teams in a later activity, so try to say enough about each feature so that someone from outside the team can understand more or less what you mean.
